

Steven Huber, PT, DPT

Steve attained his Doctorate of Physical Therapy from Rosalind Franklin University of Medicine and Science in 2012 and completed his undergraduate degree in Kinesiology, graduating with Honors from Michigan State University. Steve specializes in treating many orthopedic conditions including running injuries, post-operative, hips, knees, shoulders, and the spine. Steve places a strong emphasis on postural training, core stability, and patient education. He is certified in Functional Dry Needling and High-Velocity Low-Amplitude Thrust Manipulation of the Cervical, Thoracic, Lumbar, and Sacroiliac Joints.

Kate Sparks, PT, DPT

Kate completed her undergraduate degree in Kinesiology at Pennsylvania State University. She then attained her Doctorate of Physical Therapy degree from Northern Arizona University in 2017 and started with Panorama shortly after. Kate enjoys working with a variety of orthopedic conditions including athletes and post-operative patients in order to help them achieve their goals and return to their prior level of activity.