

Jessie Thalman PT, DPT
Clinic Director

Jessie was born in Atlanta, Georgia and moved to Greenwood Village, Colorado in 1999. She attended school at Colorado Academy and then went to Gonzaga University where she played D1 soccer as a goalkeeper and received her BS in Exercise Science. She went on to physical therapy school at Duke University where she graduated with a Doctorate in Physical Therapy.

Jessie had a shoulder injury in high school that inspired her to go on to become a physical therapist. She specializes in sports medicine, ACL, foot/ankle, and return to sport therapy and works closely with Panorama physicians, physical therapists and performance trainers at The Institute to provide a full continuum of care for her patients. Additionally, Jessie serves as a clinical instructor for PT and PTA students completing their internships.

Jessie loves the outdoors and in her spare time she enjoys training her horse, hiking, camping, and going on adventures with her dogs. She is an avid football fan and regularly sports cowboy boots with her Atlanta Falcons jersey on casual Fridays.

Fun fact: Jessie can often be found on the dance floor at country bars perfecting her line dancing and country swing dance moves.

Hannah Deveny PT, DPT

Hannah grew up in Akron, OH and attended University of Cincinnati Conservatory of Music obtaining her BFA in ballet. She danced professionally for Charlottesville Ballet for 2 years before sustaining a back injury that led her to her second career as a Physical Therapist. Hannah graduated from Washington University in St. Louis with her DPT before joining the Panorama team. She uses the Movement System Impairment (MSI) syndrome approach to guide her treatment. She enjoys treating athletes including dancers. In her free time she enjoys spending time in the mountains skiing, biking, and hiking.

Fun Fact: Hannah was vegetarian for 10 years. She still enjoys cooking new vegetarian recipes and trying new restaurants in Denver.

Jennifer Kick, PT, DPT

Jen received her Doctorate of Physical Therapy from the University of Illinois at Chicago. Following her schooling, she relocated to Portland, Oregon and worked for a private outpatient orthopedic practice in Southwest Washington, where she served on the research team for clinical in-services and served as a clinical instructor for student PT internships.

Jen has been with Panorama Physical Therapy since 2017. Her clinical interests include ACL rehabilitation, preventing and treating sports injuries of the knee, hip and shoulder. Coincidentally, Jen tore her own ACL in early 2018 while skiing, and believes that tearing her ACL has allowed her to better understand the recovery process of a major injury and the impact to a patient emotionally and physically. Jen has advanced training in post-surgical and sports rehabilitation, and is sitting for her Orthopedic Certified Specialist (OCS) Exam in March 2020. Additionally, Jen holds certifications in Personalized Blood Flow Restriction (P-BFR) and is certified in dry needling.

Outside of the clinic, Jen is an avid Chicago sports fan and enjoys exploring Colorado with her partner and their dogs. Jen is a member of the Colorado Physical Therapy Association and has been a member of the American Physical Therapy Association since 2014.

Fun fact: Jen was a member of the 2002 National Junior College Women's Basketball Championship team while at College of DuPage, and is a two-time Chicago Marathon finisher.

Evan Mazur PT, DPT

Evan graduated from Daemen College in Buffalo, NY in 2015 with his doctorate in physical therapy. He specializes in McKenzie based treatment to assist cervical/lumbar spine and other joint pathologies. Additionally, he enjoys working with sports concussion and vestibular rehabilitation patients. Evan is Blood flow restriction (BFR) and Rocktape certified. In his free time, Evan enjoys Cross-fitting, hiking, skiing, running, rock climbing, and petting others people's dogs. He loves supporting his Buffalo Bills and Purdue Boilermakers over a good conversation and a Colorado craft beer.

Fun Fact: Evan joined the high school swim team before knowing how to swim

Justin Meyer PT, DPT

Justin completed his undergraduate education at Baylor University in Waco, TX with a degree in Marketing. From there, he transitioned into physical therapy school at The University of St. Augustine for Health Sciences in Austin, TX where he not only found his way to a degree, but also found his way to the love of his life – his wife, Logan!

Justin's professional interests, include: manual therapy for a wide variety of orthopedic conditions, lower extremity pathologies involving the knee, and any situation where he can work to make a positive impact in the lives of his patients.

Justin's hobbies include: hiking, fishing, hunting, exercise, hanging out with his wife, family, and friends.

Fun fact: Justin can be found binge watching college football on Saturdays (of course watching his Baylor Bears – Sic 'em!!!)

Kristin Passaglia, PT, DPT

Kristin grew up in a suburb of Chicago and attended Miami University of Ohio to receive her Bachelors in Exercise Physiology, she then went on to Belmont University in Nashville, where she received her Doctor of Physical Therapy. Kristin has lived in Denver for 13 years and has practiced at various outpatient orthopedic clinics. Kristin joined the Panorama team in 2015. She specializes in treating hip patients, specifically on our hip preservation team working with patients pre and post arthroscopic labral repairs. She lives with her husband, two children, and Yellow Labrador Retriever. In her spare time, Kristin enjoys working out, traveling with her family, watching her kids' sporting event, and spending time with family and friends.

Fun fact: Kristin got to treat a famous singer while working in Nashville.

Chad White PT, DPT

Chad grew up in Suwanee, Georgia before heading to South Carolina to get his brain flooded with knowledge. In college, he played Division 1 baseball for the Blue Hose of Presbyterian College in Clinton, SC. Elbow problems landed him on an operating table undergoing Tommy John surgery, and ultimately in a physical therapy clinic where his passion for helping people get back to doing what they love began. After graduating from PC, he attended the Medical University of South Carolina in Charleston, SC for PT school. During his PT education, and from personal experience, he developed an interest in treating shoulder and elbow pathologies, specifically with athletes in overhead sports. Since graduation, he has continued work with upper extremity patients and has been certified in dry needling. Chad enjoys weight training, skiing, and spending time with his wife.

Fun Fact: Chad's favorite animal is a lion, so he has two house "lions" named Rizzo and Honcho
